

Asking Too Much? – video transcript

0:00 In the next 2 minutes
0:03 We're going to ask you to do something
0:06 And there's a good chance you won't do it.
0:10 How do we know this?
0:13 Because what we're about to ask you requires next to no effort
0:18 Because what we're about to ask is logical - maybe too logical
0:23 Because what we're about to ask is considered noble and supported by most of the world's religions.
0:29 You're thinking, "Okay, how much do you want?"
0:34 No, we're not asking for money.
0:37 We're not asking you to run a marathon.
0:41 We don't even want more than 2 minutes of your time.
0:45 All we're asking for...
0:47 Drum roll please...
0:49 Is your understanding
0:52 Your compassion
0:54 And your reason.
0:56 At this moment in Ontario
0:58 1500 people
1:01 Need a life-saving organ transplant
1:04 Every 3 days 1 of them dies.
1:07 But they don't need to.
1:09: Why?
1:10 Because it only takes 2 minutes to help them.
1:13 So all we're asking you to do (finally) is
1:18 Register your consent for organ and tissue donation at
1:22 beadonor.ca
1:25 As an organ donor, you can save up to 8 lives
1:29 We'll repeat that
1:30 One
1:31 Organ Donor
1:32 Can Save Up
1:33 To Eight Lives.
1:35 That means you could be a hero 8 times over.
1:41 Not bad, eh?
1:42 So, are we asking too much?

1:45 We don't think so

1:47 And there are 1500 people out there, right now, who hope you think the same.

1:53 Thank you
